DOCTORS CLOSE UP NORTH DIXON SCHOOLS

EPIDEMIC OF SCARLET FEVER
HAS CAUSED DRASTIC ACTION.

EIGHT CASES HAVE DEVELOPED

Commission of Physicians Appointed by Council Met Today and Decided Schools Should Be Closed and Fumigated Rest of Week.

A condition in the North Dixon school district, which has grown to be serious, has caused a commission of physicians, appointed at the meeting of the city council last evening, to recommend the closing of the North Dixon schools for the rest of this week, at least.

The cause is an epidemic of scarlet fever which has started among school children on the north side of the river. There are at present eight cases of the fever, all on the north side of the river but one, which is on the south side, but in the North Dixon school district.

The commission of doctors, whose names are mentioned elsewhere tonight, met this afternoon at the city hall and decided to recommend the closing of the North Dixon schools tonight for the rest of the week. A committee of three doctors was appointed to act with Commissioner Gannon in fumigating the school buildings, and the commission will await developments of the situation before deciding to keep the schools closed. If the situation grows no worse, the schools may be opened again next Monday, but if the epidemic spreads the schools will be kept closed and the other schools and even the theatres in the city may be closed.

Many parents in North Dixon have already taken their children out of school and considerable anxiety has been felt for some time over the conditions that are gradually growing worse. Up to date the situation has not been made public through the newspapers for fear of causing unnecessary alarm. The city commissioners have been aroused to the situation, however, and will hold an adjourned meeting tonight to act upon the physicians' recommendations.

MRS. HANNA SMITH HAS PASSED AWAY

BELOVED WOMAN SUCCEMBED
TO BRIGHT'S DISEASE MON-DAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Harriet Smith, widow of the late Robert Smith, died at her home 1024 Third street, at 4:40 p. m. yesterday from Bright's disease, with which the aged lady had suffered for some time. Her condition had been serious for a number of weeks and her death was not unexpected. The funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the residence, Rev. F. D. Stone officiating at the short service to be held there, when the remains will be taken to Pawpaw, where services will be held at the M. E. church at 3 o'clock, burial being at the Pawpaw cemetery.

Mrs. Smith was born in Wayne county, Pa., Dec. 26, 1837. She came west in 1855 with her parents and settled near Pawpaw, where she was married in 1856 to Robert Smith, who died Sept. 2, 1905. Since 1890 she has resided in Dixon and her consideration for others, her interest in the welfare of her family and friends, and her estimable and lovely character have made her many friends who at this time tender their sincere sympathy to the bereaved children; Attorney Clyde Smith of this city, Mrs. Teal Swarthout of Pawpaw and Mrs. William Crompton of Superior, Wis.

ATTENDED FUNERAL IN MENDOTA

Attorney J. E. Erwin, Max Lett, Michael Callahan and Lem Whipple went to Mendota Sunday to attend the funeral of the late Christian Hennings.

CITY MAY LIMIT NUMBER OF SALOONS

SUPREME COURT SAYS MUNI-CIPALITIES HAVE THIS RIGHT—
MARK KELLER GAVE THAT OPINION TWO YEARS AGO.

City Attorney Mark C. Keller and the members of the city council are much interested in a decision of the Illinois supreme court handed down Saturday, in which the highest tribunal of the state holds that city councils have the right to limit the number of saloons in a municipality.

The decision is of interest here in that it coincides with an opinion given the council by City Attorney Keller two years ago, in which he held that the council had the right to say how many saloons there should be in Dixon. At that time no court decisions had been given on the question, and the fact that the supreme court's ruling is based on the same questions of law, speaks very well for Mr. Keller's judgment. The decision of the supreme court in the matter reads:

The business of selling intoxicating liquor is attended with danger to the community and it is a recognized subject for regulation by the police power of the state. There is no inherent right to carry it on and it may be strictly prohibited.

The manner and extent of its regulation, if permitted to be carried on at all, is to be determined by the state so as to limit as far as possible the evils arising from it.

The power conferred upon the city is coextensive with that of the state and includes authority to adopt any means to reduce the evils arising from the sale of intoxicating liquor, reasonably adapted to that end, which do not violate constitutional rights. The legislature cannot confer any power which it does not itself possess and cannot authorize a discrimination between individuals not founded upon a reasonable difference, for it could not itself make such discrimination.

Everybody has an equal right to apply for a license and when the number authorized by the ordinance has been granted everybody is equally excluded from the business.

The intention of the statute is that the right of the licensee shall cease with the municipal year and that the city council shall have no right to grant him any powers beyond that period. Calling the subsequent term a renewal or re-issue does not alter the fact that the ordinance attempts to extend the rights conferred by the license beyond the municipal year.

TO BRING RACE HORSES HERE.

Frank M. Pearce went to Aurora yesterday to arrange for shipping his string of horses to this city for the winter.

MOVED TO NEW STORE.

Dauntler & Son last night moved their cigar and tobacco stock into the new Warner-Brookner building and opened for business this morning. New fixtures have been placed in the room and the establishment is one of the most convenient and commodious in the city.

SHERMAN LIES AT POINT OF DEATH

Vice-President Suffering From Bright's Disease and Weak Heart.

LIFE HANGING BY A THREAD

Entire Family of Distinguished Patient Are Assembled at the Home
Awaiting the Summons That Cannot Be Delayed Long.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29.—A bulletin issued early this morning by the vice-president's physicians states that Mr. Sherman is resting easily and was sleeping soundly at that hour. His condition shows improvement.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Vice-President James Schoolcraft Sherman lies at the point of death, waging a hopeless fight for life against Bright's disease and a greatly weakened heart. He may survive another forty-eight hours but it is improbable that his greatly weakened vitality can sustain him beyond that length of time. At the vice-president's bedside are Dr. F. H. Peck, his personal physician, and Dr. William Elmer of Syracuse, while Dr. Theodore Janeway of New York city is brought into close touch with the consulting physicians by means of the long-distance telephone.

Life Hanging by a Thread.
Not until now would Doctor Peck admit Mr. Sherman's condition critical. Last night the physician stated that the vice-president was resting comfortably. Now the fact was revealed that Mr. Sherman suffered a relapse last Friday and that since that time his life had been hanging by a slender thread.

The secretiveness of the physicians was undoubtedly inspired by a desire to hide the true situation regarding Mr. Sherman's illness in the closing hours of the campaign in which he is a candidate for re-election to the second highest office in the land.

Family Awaiting Dread News.
In the Sherman home on upper Genesee street the members of the vice-president's family are assembled awaiting the summons which it is feared cannot be long deferred.

Doctor Peck announced that his distinguished patient was resting more comfortably than he had in the preceding twenty-four hours but beyond this he made no statement. The vice-president suffers greatly from his affection of the kidneys and his inability to breathe. Stimulantes to accelerate the heart action are frequently administered and remedies to allay the constant agonizing pain are also given at safe intervals. The vice-president is perfectly rational and bears his intense sufferings with fortitude.

Power to Fill Vacancy.
Washington, Oct. 29.—The illness of Vice-President Sherman and speculation over the possibilities of his withdrawal from the Republican ticket because of the precarious condition of his health, aroused discussion here over the probable methods of filling his place.

The general opinion expressed was that the Republican national committee or the executive committee possessed power to fill a vacancy upon the ticket.

Should a vacancy occur upon the Republican ticket, either before or after election, some Republican leaders here argued, the electors would have power to vote for any candidate for vice-president they might choose.

GIRL ELOPER WAS FOUND MURDERED

SOPHIA SINGER, DAUGHTER OF WEALTHY BALTIMORE MAN,
SLAIN IN ROOMING HOUSE.

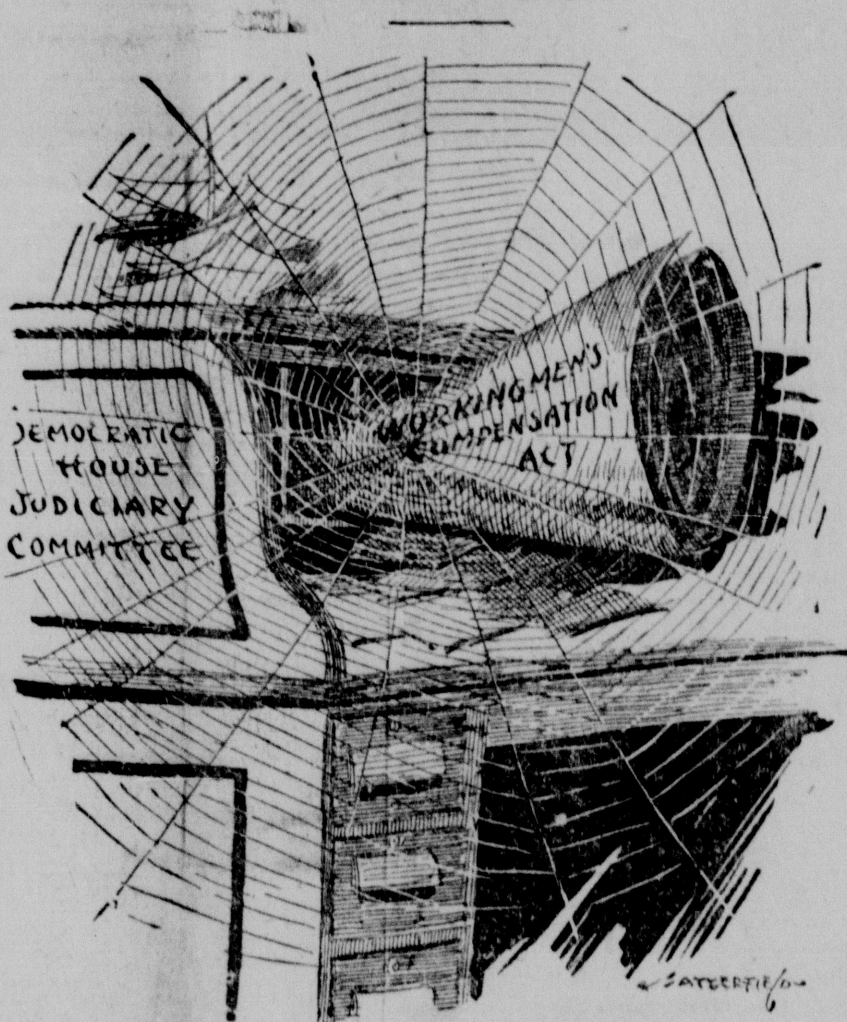

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Special to Telegraph—Miss Sophia Singer, daughter of a wealthy contractor of Baltimore, who eloped to Chicago with Wm. Warham, son of a Maryland farmer and the date of whose wedding had been set for tomorrow, was found murdered in a rooming house in this city today. Robbery is suspected as the motive, as the young lady had jewelry valued at about $1000 and a large sum of money upon her person.

Charles Conway, a one-legged driver and an actress known as Beatrice Rydall, who boarded at the house, disappeared directly following the tragedy and the police are seeking them, believing they know something of the matter.

LICENSED TO WFD

A marriage license has been issued to Geo. Bassett and Miss Vernie Williams, both of Rock Falls.

PIGEON-HOLED

NOTE: Passed by the Senate May 6, 1912. Consigned to oblivion by the Democratic House May 8, 1912.

CATHOLIC FAIR STARTS SATURDAY

MANY REMARKABLE FEATURES—
ADVANCE TICKET SALE IS GOOD.

The committee in charge of St. Patrick's Catholic fair which starts Saturday evening and continues the coming week, is hard at work planning new features and it is hoped to make the fair the most successful in the history of the church. Further details will be made later. The Marquette and Slothower orchestras will furnish music for the dancing, the Slothower organization playing Saturday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, the Marquette furnishing the music Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. The sale of season tickets for the fair has been progressing merrily and those in charge report that an exceptionally large number of tickets are being disposed of.

ROBBERS WORK IN FRANKLIN GROVE

SMUCKER'S CLOTHING STORE EN-TERED—CLOTHES AND SUIT-CASE TAKEN.

Franklin Grove, Oct. 29.—Special—Robbers forced an entrance to Smucker's clothing store here last night and stole two suits of expensive clothing, an overcoat and suitcase. There are also indications that other stores in the village were entered, but investigation by the proprietors fails to disclose anything taken. It is believed by the local officers, who have notified the sheriff's office, that the work was done by local talent and as both suits of clothing were size 36, it is hoped to apprehend the thief through that circumstance.

FORMER DIXONITE WINS PRIZE

C. A. MILLER, NOW IN IDAHO,
RAISES A PRIZE
CANTALOUPE.

Lincoln county, Idaho, the home of three former Dixon families, will C. Godfrey, Geo. Maxwell and C. A. Miller, at the state fair at Boise, Idaho, won the sweetest prizes, getting 975 out of a possible 1,000 points. Among the winners at the state fair was C. A. Miller, who won on his cantaloupe. Mr. Miller moved from our city in March, 1911, this being his third season in Idaho.

Taken as a whole Lincoln county may well feel proud of her achievements, as twice in succession it has been designated as the banner county in the state and this against the competition of much older sections where lands are held at fabulous prices.

COUNCIL WILL MEET AGAIN THIS EVENING

COMMISSIONERS TRANSFERRED
SALOON LICENSE FROM DREN-NER TO ASCHENBRENNER.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Transferred saloon license issued last week to Philip Drenner to Geo. Aschenbrenner.
Discussed health conditions.
Adjourned until 8 o'clock this evening.

As was predicted last night's meeting of the city council was short. There was little business to come before the commissioners and the most important action taken was the discussion of health conditions in the city and the appointment of Drs. Murphy, Parker, Owens and Mokhof as acting board of health. The council transferred the saloon license granted to Philip Drenner last week, to George Aschenbrenner, owner of the building, and adjourned until 8 o'clock this evening.

CABLE ACROSS RIVER PREVENTS DISASTER

PRECAUTION BY CITY PROBABLY SAVES MORE LIVES—STER-LING CAME TO RESCUE.

The steel cable which was stretched across the river under the direction of the city council after the tragedy in which Warren Lally lost his life, proved its worth Friday afternoon when it prevented a launch with several of the children of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Burridge from going over the dam. According to the reports of the affair the Burridge boy had recently purchased a launch and was trying it out Friday afternoon. After he and his fellow passengers had gotten into the boat and cast off from shore an attempt was made to start the engine, but it would only run backwards and the boat was carried down stream rapidly. Within a short time it struck the cable and the occupants were able to hold the boat there until Bob Sterling came to their rescue.

FOR PROTECTION AND PROSPERITY.

Your vote on Tuesday, November 5, for the Republican ticket is a vote for protection and prosperity. It is also a vote for the preservation of constitutional government.

A vote for the Democratic ticket is a vote for free trade, with legislation that will place farm products on the free list and will adversely affect practically every industry in the United States.

A vote for the Third Term ticket is worse than a wasted vote. Roosevelt cannot possibly be elected and a vote for him aids in the election of the Democratic candidate.

REVIVE BOULEVARD LIGHT QUESTION

MOVEMENT IS ON FOOT TO HAVE
PARK LIGHTING SYSTEM
DOWNTOWN.

BELIEVE EFFORT WILL SUCCEED

Commissioners and Many Merchants
In Favor of Boulevard Lighting—
I. N. U. Will Co-Operate.

Another movement to install boulevard lights on the business streets of the city has been started, and the indications are that the present campaign for that purpose will result successfully. Geo. J. Downing, one of the city's most enterprising merchants, who is at present erecting a handsome large building on First street is backing the new movement and has taken the matter up with the Illinois Northern Utilities company, which concern, it is reported, has offered a liberal proposition to the business men. It is known that the members of the city council are in favor of such a system in the business district and many merchants are of the opinion that some active work should be done along that line.

Nearly every city of importance in this part of the state has boulevard lights in the business sections, and in the opinion of those back of this movement there is no reason why the plan should not be adopted here. It is hoped to install iron posts on First street from Ottawa to Peoria avenues and on Galena from Second to River streets.

ASK FOR FREE EGGS FOR NEEDY PATIENTS

POULTRY JOURNAL INSTITUTING
FREE EGG DONATION FOR TU-BERCULAR PATIENTS.

The American Poultry Journal of Chicago has instituted a "free egg" donation for the tuberculosis institute in Chicago from November 4th to 9th. The institute is under the management of the United Charities society and treats a large number of cases free. They are greatly in need of fresh eggs at this season of the year.

B. H. Green of this city, a department editor of the Journal, has been designated to receive such donations from Dixon and vicinity. Anyone having a few eggs to spare and wishing to take part in this enterprise may leave the eggs at Geo. Laing's feed store between Nov. 1 and 8 and Mr. Green will get them. The express companies have agreed to transport the donations free of charge, and so every egg will reach its destination without cost to the patient who gets it.

AURORA GIRL WAS TAKEN BACK HOME

GIRL WAS IN BAD CONDI-TION—AFTER BEING CONFINED AT POLICE STATION ALL DAY.

Pretty little Dora Chitry, the 16 year old Aurora girl, who was taken into custody by the local officers yesterday, was taken back to Aurora this morning, an officer from that city finally making his appearance at 7:33 o'clock last evening. However, after being kept in the custody of the police all day yesterday, during which time the girl reached a stage of nervousness bordering on hysterics, Mayor Brinton ordered that the girl be allowed to go to the home of Mrs. Pearce, her mother's cousin, who desired to keep the girl here. The officers from Aurora had no authority to take Anna Freitag, the older girl, back with them, and she is now with Mrs. Clark Anderson, the woman she came here to visit.

MERRIMAN RAISES FINE APPLES

Walter Merriman, former county treasurer, has sent some exceptionally fine apples raised on his ranch near Utica, Mo., to friends here. Some of the fruit is on exhibition in the windows of Rickard's harness store on Galena avenue, where it attracts considerable attention.

ROOSEVELT CANNOT BE ELECTED

IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO RECEIVE
LARGE ENOUGH PERCENTAGE OF REPUBLICAN VOTE.

FACT IS BEYOND DISPUTE

Question at Issue Is Whether Country
Wants Taft and Protection or Wilson and Free Trade, Because Either Taft or Wilson Will Be Elected.

Theodore Roosevelt cannot possibly be elected president of the United States.

This is not a mere statement. It can be demonstrated by figures. It can be shown that he cannot secure the voting support which would be necessary to give him a successful showing in Republican states.

As the popular vote for Bryan in 1908 was 6,409,104 and for Taft was 7,678,908, it is a mathematical fact—assuming that the relative strength of the two parties in this election will remain the same—that Mr. Roosevelt will have to get the vote of eight out of every ten Republicans in the nation in order to be elected. No one believes that he can do this. It does not avail to say that he will make up the difference in Democratic votes, for this will not be the case. The information received at Democratic headquarters shows that for every Democratic vote going to Roosevelt four or five will go to Taft.

In Illinois it will take seven out of every ten Republicans to vote for Roosevelt in order to give him the state. In Kansas it will take eight out of ten, in Indiana nine out of ten. It is an apparent fact that he cannot secure this large proportion of Republican votes. The percentage of votes in all the Republican states necessary to elect Roosevelt and which he cannot get is as follows:

| | 1908 | % To Elect Roosevelt. |
|--------------|-----------|-----------------------------|
| Bryan | 6,409,104 | 59.1/2 |
| Taft | 7,678,908 | 60.1/2 |
| California | 127,492 | 214,398 |
| Connecticut | 68,255 | 112,915 |
| Delaware | 22,071 | 26,014 |
| Idaho | 36,162 | 52,621 |
| Illinois | 450,795 | 625,929 |
| Indiana | 338,263 | 348,993 |
| Iowa | 200,771 | 275,210 |
| Kansas | 161,209 | 197,216 |
| Maine | 35,403 | 66,987 |
| Maryland | 115,908 | 116,513 |
| Mass. | 155,543 | 265,996 |
| Michigan | 175,771 | 325,580 |
| Minnesota | 109,401 | 198,843 |
| Missouri | 346,574 | 347,203 |
| Montana | 29,326 | 32,333 |
| New Jersey | 182,567 | 265,326 |
| New York | 367,468 | 870,070 |
| North Dakota | 32,885 | 57,680 |
| Ohio | 502,721 | 573,121 |
| Oregon | 38,049 | 62,530 |
| Pennsylvania | 448,778 | 745,779 |
| Rhode Island | 25,706 | 42,942 |
| South Dakota | 40,266 | 67,536 |
| Utah | 42,601 | 61,015 |
| Vermont | 11,496 | 39,552 |
| Washington | 58,691 | 106,062 |
| W. Virginia | 111,418 | 137,869 |
| Wisconsin | 166,632 | 247,747 |
| Wyoming | 14,918 | 20,846 |

But, while it is mathematically impossible for Roosevelt to be elected, it is possible, unfortunately, for Wilson to win, because of Republican votes cast for Roosevelt. In the country at large it would require but 16 Republican votes out of every hundred to be cast for Roosevelt to give Wilson a popular majority.

It follows, therefore, that the only way to defeat Wilson in the nation is to vote for Taft. The only way to keep Wilson from carrying any state, and thus contributing materially to his election, is to vote for Taft. A vote for Roosevelt helps Wilson; it cannot by any possibility elect Roosevelt.

The voters of the nation, therefore, have but one question to answer at the coming election, so far as national politics is concerned, and that is "Taft or Wilson?" Do they want Taft and the Republican party, or Wilson and the Democratic party? Do they want a continuation of the policies under which the present condition of universal prosperity has been attained, which would call for no business readjustment, and therefore would result in no business derangement; or do they want new and different policies, the result of which nobody could foresee, which therefore would force upon the country a period of uncertainty and waiting, inevitably inviting stagnation, distress and disaster? Do they want to exchange an assured good for a nearly certain evil? They have prosperity now; do they want to risk losing it?

That is the only question, and the whole question, in this national campaign. Roosevelt is a demonstrated impossibility. It is Taft or Wilson. It is the Republican party or the Democratic party. It is a certain good or an almost equally certain evil.

Charles Slain is convalescing favorably from his recent illness.

Social Happenings

BIRTHDAY HOROSCOPES.

October 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6.

Are bold, determined and fearless. Consider yourself equal to anything and go ahead with all the power on. Have much family pride. There are no people like your own brothers and sisters. Love home; worship father and mother. You are fond of gaiety and pleasure. Are a foe to pretense and humbug. Specious argument has no power with you.

October 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

You are just, honest shrewd able. Reticient, thoughtful and proud. The secrets and interests of others are safe in your keeping, and see everything that comes your way. Are tenacious, like to advise, and sometimes dictate. Are just and fair and are willing to pay all you owe, and want all you earn. Are conscientious, true and careful in money matters.

Hallowe'en Social.

A Hallowe'en social was held last evening at the Lutheran church, by the choir, whose leader is Mrs. E. M. Goodsell, assisted by the young people. The decorations were very appropriate and in keeping with Hallowe'en.

Mrs. F. D. Altman and Mrs. Goodsell managed the pleasant affair and saw that each young person had a good time. Over 300 attended and enjoyed the happy evening. Many students were present from different colleges and made things lively. The young ladies at the candy and flower booths, etc., sold many articles and quite a sum of money was realized. There was a fortune teller who revealed the past, present and future. Witches with the proverbial kettle cooked up your fortune and thereby made you miserable or happy according to your deserts. Ghosts of many young people haunted the rooms and paraded silently, arm in arm, with the guests. Doughnuts, coffee, apples and refreshments appropriate to Hallowe'en were served and at a late hour the happy company dispersed.

Frank Barrus Surprised.

Mrs. Frank Barrus of Rock Falls planned and carried out a very pleasant surprise on her husband last evening when she invited a number of Dixon relatives to come and spend the evening with them.

Mrs. Frank Genett, Mrs. Jas. Bonnett, mother of Mr. Barrus, Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Clark, Karl Barrus, Helen Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brundage were guests from Dixon. Mr. Brundage is a civil engineer on the Panama canal and he and his wife are in Dixon for a short vacation.

The Dixon people went down on the 4 o'clock car and greeted Mr. Barrus when he arrived home from work. They made his 24th birthday anniversary a memorable one.

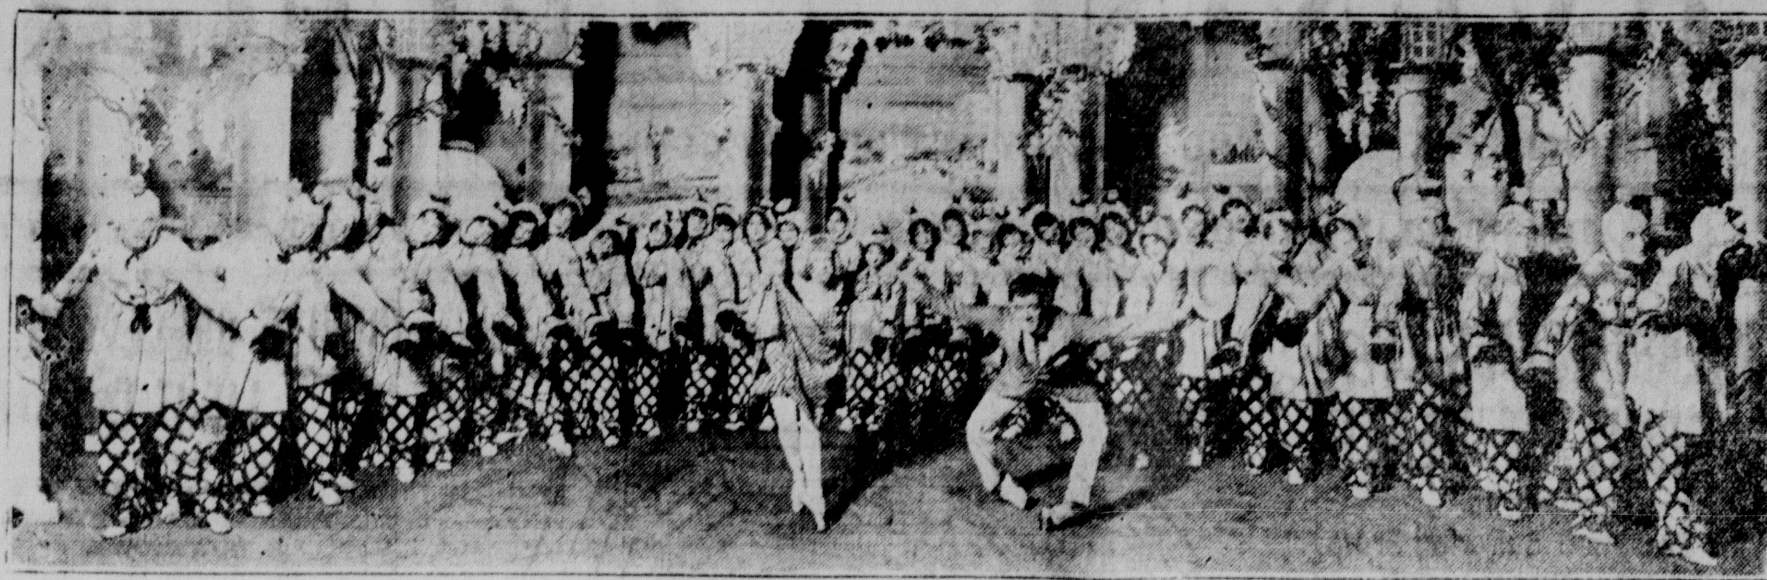

A sumptuous dinner was prepared and enjoyed and a very happy evening spent. Mr. Barrus received a number of handsome gifts in memory of the day.

Dined at Grand Detour.

Mrs. Lucy Rosbrook and Miss Lulu Shafer drove to Grand Detour Sunday and took dinner at the Sheffield hotel.

Entertained at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Duls entertained at dinner Sunday—Misses Louise and Mollie Portenitus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manahan and daughter, Miss Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Will Shank, and Harry Grimes of Lee Center.

THE GREAT DANCE OF THE RAGGEDY DOLLS.

Miss Cathryn Rowe Palmer, Mr. William Gaston and the LaSalle Ballet and Chorus in a Sticking Rag time Number in Act II of "The Girl at the Gate."—LaSalle Opera House, Chicago.

Entertain B. M.'s.

Mrs. J. B. Stackpole invited the members of the B. M. club to spend last evening with her and the evening was being greatly enjoyed when a surprise in the form of more guests greeted the young ladies. Mrs. Stackpole had as a surprise to the young ladies invited the Bachelor Boys' club to spend the evening at her home also and so a jolly time was had by everyone present in games and music till a late hour. The hostess served her guests very delicious refreshments.

Dancing School News.

The adult class of the dancing school will meet at Rosbrook hall Friday evening as usual.

Mrs. Collins, beside teaching the beginners to waltz and two-step, will give a first lesson in the popular new dance called The Tonga.

This is the most popular of the new dances and was originated by Maurice, to whom the society ladies of New York paid $25 an hour for instruction.

Extra music has been engaged for the informal dancing.

At Dinner.

Mrs. Elmer Byers of Palmyra entertained guests at dinner Sunday—members of the families of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Burkhardt, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. David Byers, Sterling; Hiram Eberly, Prairieville.

Famous "Pint of Cough Syrup" Receipt

No Better Remedy at Any Price. Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for two minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of pure Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold instantly, and will usually stop the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. It tones up the faded appetite and is just laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, throat tickle, sore lungs and asthma, and an unequalled remedy for whooping cough and croup. This recipe for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) is a prime favorite in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, though never successfully. If you try it, use only genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this recipe. A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Syriaca), Black Cherry bark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no druggist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

MONARCH METAL Weather Strips

Do not think of the Monarch Metal Weather Strips as a luxury to be put on as something extra when you can afford it. You cannot afford to be without them. Read this carefully.

Every window and door in your house—in everybody's house—that is not weather stripped, has cracks between the sash and the frame, which is usually about 1-16 inch to make the sash operate properly under all conditions. It has been proven conclusively that with a wind velocity of 15 miles per hour, this crevice will admit 145 cubic feet of air per hour for every linear foot of length. (See Engineering Review of March, 1911.) This means nearly 3,000 cubic feet of air per hour on a double hung window of average size. With greater velocity of wind, this amount is proportionately increased.

This means cold air, dirt, soot. It may mean frozen water pipes. It does mean drudgery of endless cleaning and dusting, which can be removed with the

MONARCH METAL WEATHER STRIPS

These strips also stop all rattling of windows, and the windows will always be easy to operate, and there will be no sticking.

There are many kinds of weather strips, from the old rubber-edged kind, whose life lasts about a year, to the sharp-edged metal type that cuts the hands, sash cords, etc., and requires deep grooves in the sash for its installation.

The PERFECT type is the MONARCH METAL WEATHER STRIP. It consists of two sliding tubes, a tube within a tube. This ingenious interlocking shape makes the strip absolutely weather-tight.

A test made of a double-hung sash, 36x36, fitted 1-16 play all around, with the wind at a velocity of thirty-five miles an hour, allowed a leakage of 109.98 cubic feet of air per minute. Equipped with the Monarch Metal Weather Strip, the leakage was reduced to 3.36 cubic feet of air per minute, 25 per cent more efficient than any other.

Slides, top and sill strip are made of zinc, and the interlocking strip at the meeting rail is made of copper and bronze.

They are applied to any windows or doors, old or new, by experienced mechanics, and are guaranteed unconditionally, for wear and repair, to outlast the frames to which they are attached.

The following buildings are already equipped with the Monarch Metal Weather Strips:

The Elks' Club.
Dovey Building.
South Side High School.
W. J. McAlpine Residence.

Jos. Staples, out eminent disciple of Luther Burbank, has provoked another benefit to mankind, to add to his discoveries of the self-irrigating potato and the buttermilk plant, mention of which has been made in this col. Mr. Staples' new invention is waterproof hay, which, after being cut, can be allowed to lie out in the rain without harm. In fact the hay can be immersed in a tank of water and it will not absorb a bit of the water. Mr. Staples has grown it by crossing clover and the rubber plant.

He answered: "Well, if I couldn't be a republican, I'd be ashamed of myself."

BRITZ OF HEADQUARTERS

By MARCIN BARBER
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WATERS

"Why was it made, and for whom was it made?" The sooner we work out that end of the game, my dear young man, the better it will be for that little girl up in Centre Street."

The doctor's eyebrows began to contract. There was a peculiarity in the facial gesture. Something was going on in his scientifically inquiring mind. The brows drew together until their separate lines curved into the form of a minute interrogation point; little knobs of skin gathered under the bristles; his eyes focused until they almost crossed. He clasped his hands behind his head and studied the ceiling. A rather long silence followed. Smoke spiraled from the detective's cigar and eddied upward. The detective's keen glance was leveled at the doctor's intellectually sharpening face.

It was in a reminiscent tone that Fitch at last spoke.

"I know just how you feel about it, doctor," said Britz sympathetically, "but you'll have to leave that in my hands for the present. Miss Holcomb must stay where she is awhile longer."

"But surely," persisted the physician, "it cannot be necessary to leave her there forever to establish her innocence. You know she is guiltless; I know it; Mrs. Missioner knows it, and it would not take much to bring all her acquaintances to the same view. Why must we wait?"

"Now, let us talk," said Britz. "You and I have fenced long enough along this line; let's get down to business. You know something about chemistry, that's certain. Do you know enough about it to tell me whether any progress has been made in recent years in the manufacture of paste jewels?"

"Can't say I do! haven't been much interested in that line until this outrageous attempt to prove Miss Holcomb a thief."

"Well, it's about time you did," said Britz meaningly. "I don't see what good it is to a girl to have an M. D. for a lover if he can't be of any more use to her in a case of this sort than Blinks of the Hardware Club, or Jenks of the Retail Grocers' Association. Now, you know how these false gems are made, don't you?"

"I know pretty well," and Fitch gave him the formula with which the minuscule men of the jewel trade were familiar for purposes of self-protection.

"Well, I'm quite free to tell you," continued Britz, "that the whole question of Miss Holcomb's stay in the Tombs depends on our success in finding out who made the Maharance diamond. I know who turned out the other 'stones'—had Logan over there for several weeks in Paris you know." The detective then sketched rapidly for Fitch the detailed information sent to him by his assistant across the water. "But I cannot get a line on the Maharance diamond. I've been over every place in this neck of woods—in fact, I've gone over the whole country with a fine-tooth comb. I've had every important city in Europe canvassed, and the sum-total of all these inquiries is that nobody knows any live man who could make an imitation of the real Maharance anything like good enough to deceive Simple Simon. Now, you just get that scientific thinking apparatus of yours going, and help me puzzle out the problem. We know there was a fake Maharance diamond. It was ground to pieces under Griswold's heel in Mrs. Missioner's opera box. It was picked up by a man from the Orient—this Swami—whatever his name is, the sort of combination priest and scholar who says he's here to spread the propaganda of the Buddhist faith among the elect of New York society. Sands saw the diamond; Miss March saw it; Griswold saw it, and, of course, Mrs. Missioner herself had it in her own hand. There is no doubt about its existence. In fact, here is a piece of it now," and he showed Fitch a flake of the false diamond. "But you don't know, and I don't know what we have both got to know, and that is who made it, where it was made, by whom was it made."

"When it comes to guessing, I'm no good," he said. "I haven't been trained to guess. The little I know is the result of careful study and patient analysis; but there are a few things besides pharmacopoeia in my mind and memory, and one of them may help us a little." He shifted his position until he turned a square front to the detective.

"Way back in my ambulance days," he said, "there was a case that your question reminds me of. It was one of the first I had after I went to Bellevue. It was a call to a queer little old shop in Fourth Avenue. You remember that row of rookeries filled up with second-hand furniture stores, art dens, odd curio shops, and so on, on the west side of the avenue, some where in the Twenties?" A nod from Britz was the only reply. "Well," continued the doctor, "this call was to one of those curiosity shops. It was kept by a queer little old chap who must have starved himself to death to carry out some object he had. He sold curios for a living, and played at alchemy for amusement—cracked, you know. At any rate, he wasn't all there. His neighbors looked on him as a harmless lunatic, and in spite of his solitary habits, he was pretty popular. It was owing to this popularity that he didn't die in the back part of his own store with all the busy traffic of a busy city just a few rods outside. A neighbor heard a noise like an explosion and, running in, found him on his back all covered with some chemical that was turning his clothes into porous plaster. The neighbor turned in an ambulance call, and I was the answer. I found the old man half suffocated and wholly unconscious, and as I was pretty nervous from inexperience, it was about all I could do to bring him around. I wanted to take him back with me, but he wouldn't have it; said he was just as well off where he was; didn't like the hospital anyhow and wouldn't go, so I fixed him up where he was. Afterward, in the exuberance of my youthful zeal, I called on him outside of working hours, and kind of looked after him. He pulled through all right, but he was a pretty badly charred old person for a long time after that. As soon as he was well enough to take care of himself, I left off going there, and that is the last I have seen of him."

Britz Frowned Slightly as He Read the Message.

"What caused the explosion?" asked Britz.

"I believe he was experimenting with some chemical—couldn't get him to tell me anything about it; he got mad as a hornet every time I touched upon it. I learned, however, from neighbors that he was interested in precious stones, and in his later years the idea became firmly fixed in his mind that if he only tried long enough, spent money enough, mortified the flesh sufficiently, he would be able to make diamonds."

"What sort of stuff did he succeed in making?" asked the detective.

"You can search me," said Fitch. "I never got a look at any of it. His crankiness would never make any sort of admission to me about the stuff he was making. All I know is that man who told me about the experiments was quite positive that was the crack in the old chap's brain—that he could make diamonds, and could make them just as well in a few hours as nature could in a thousand years."

"So the explosion must have been—?"

"Some fussing around with the ingredients he was going to convert into gleam and glitter. That's all I know about it. There you have it. Now, what do you make of it?"

"Well," said Britz as he put his heels to the floor with a click, "what we'll make of it won't be made down here. I'm glad that memory of yours worked in the long run; but it might have saved me an extra hazardous 'joy ride' if it had worked sooner. Come along!" and he moved toward the door.

"Where are you going?" asked the physician.

"To the Bleecker Street station," replied Britz, "and from there to Fourth Avenue as fast as the local can take us. Guess we won't wait for a taxi."

"Then you think," said Fitch eagerly, "there may be a clew in what I've told you?"

"What's the use of thinking," almost snapped Britz, "when we can know? There's just one way to know, and that's to go. Come, let's go."

As they walked briskly down the Headquarters building, Britz paused at Manning's office, pushed a button and, when the door swung open, thrust his head in long enough to say:

"See you later, Chief; going up town for a little while."

"Still fighting it out on that lice, eh?" was Manning's return.

"Yes," said Britz calmly, "and it may not take all winter either."

The detective and the doctor were so absorbed in the subject as they raced down the subway stairs that they did not notice a dark-faced man who, after a keen glance at their faces, hastened east in Bleecker Street and sprang into a waiting cab at the next corner.

CHAPTER XIV.

Gid Friends.

Bruxton Sands was as genuinely astonished as a man of deliberateness could be when a clerk entered the private room of his office suite in a Bowling Green skyscraper and told him a lady wished to see him. He was about to instruct the clerk to ask for the lady's card when, glancing over the youth's head, he glimpsed a golden gleam under a big hat with sweeping plumes through the doorway and in an instant was crossing the threshold with both hands extended.

"My dear Doris!" he said. "This is really good of you. Things were getting a bit dull this morning."

Mrs. Missioner smiled in that pervading way that long ago had penetrated to the very core of the millionaire's inner consciousness. That smile illuminated Sands' somewhat gloomy sanctuary. He welcomed Mrs. Missioner to a comfortable chair beside his broad desk, swept aside the heap of formidable papers with great gold seals and fluttering legal ribbons, and leaned back in his chair quite content to wait a century for his visitor to speak again, provided her smile should continue to beam upon him.

"No, it is not about investments," said Mrs. Missioner, noting the restrained inquiry in her admirer's eyes. "I felt I had to talk to somebody about Elinor; and Dorothy, you know, is too amiably responsive to be of any use. Bruxton, what am I to do about that girl?"

"I'm sure I don't know," he said at length. "I suppose something ought to be done."

"I don't care what the detective says!" exclaimed Mrs. Missioner. "I am not going to let Elinor Holcomb think any longer that her friend of years believes her to be a thief. It is unbearable! The man told me that I must not interfere in the case if I expected him to vindicate my secretary; but I am not going to be governed by anyone to that extent. I am going to see Elinor to-day. I am going straight to that terrible place and assure her that even though I permit her to be kept there, I refuse to entertain for a moment the idea that she has broken any law of God or man!"

"Are you sure this is wise, Doris?" inquired Sands gravely. As he stood beside her, it was difficult to control the impulse to pour out before her the adoration he felt at sight of her new loveliness. She had never seemed more beautiful than when she was moved by sympathy for the girl who at that moment, doubtless, was wondering if she had forsaken her.

"Wise or not," returned the widow, "I shall do it. Something tells me she is in need of sympathy this very day. Why, Bruxton, how do we know what effect this dreadful incarceration might have upon her? It may warp her entire nature; it may wreck her health. Please do not try to dissuade me. I have made up my mind to see her, and I shall go there at once."

It was a short dash for the auto up Broadway, up Centre Street to the Tombs, and it was with little difficulty that Sands obtained for Mrs. Missioner permission to see the prisoner.

Elinor came around the corner of the corridor with more animation in her step than it had shown in many a day. She had hardly been able to believe her eyes on reading Mrs. Missioner's name on the card thrust through the grating of her cell. Long ago she had made up her mind that the chain of circumstances, or perhaps an enemy, had sown in her kind friend's mind suspicion that she was guilty. As the days rolled on and she received no word from Mrs. Missioner, the conviction grew upon her. Even this very day she had given up the hope of rehabilitating herself in the eyes of her employer. Not that it was an employer she mourned in loss of Mrs. Missioner's confidence. The rich widow was her friend; had been her family's friend, and had been the first to offer her a refuge in the terrible days following discovery of the fact that her kindly, gentle father, after a lifetime of high endeavor, had left her without the provision she knew he always intended to make.

"Dear Mrs. Missioner!" cried Elinor, hastening toward the widow as she read affection and complete belief in her countenance. "You have done many lovely things for me, but this is quite the dearest! It seems hard even to picture you in such a place, and the reality—"

"You poor child!" exclaimed Mrs. Missioner, hardly controlling her voice. "What about yourself? If it is terrible for you to be here, how can you stand it?"

"One learns to stand many things," she answered, "when fate commands; yet if anyone had told me a few weeks ago that I could so much as retain my reason in a place like this! Now that you are here, it seems far easier. Oh, but it is good of you to come!"

The widow took the girl's hands in her own and patted them softly as she whispered words of encouragement. She could not trust her voice to speak for the first few moments. As she looked at Elinor's slender grace and the deathless honesty in her soft, gray eyes, the horror of the girl's situation came home to her with redoubled force. It was by a mighty effort, and by that alone, that she prevented herself from sweeping the girl into her arms and making a dash with her for the freedom beyond the great steel door. For an instant that impulse almost got the upper hand of her common sense. Had not Sands been there, she might have done something so foolish as to complicate her young friend's position still further in the eyes of all the city's newspapers and their readers. As it was, she increased the tenderness of her caresses, and sought to soothe Elinor's agitation with little love words such as had long been common in their daily intercourse. But this tenderness only recalled to Elinor all the affection, safety, and shelter she had left behind her in Mrs. Missioner's home, and at the thought she broke into uncontrollable sobs.

The millionaire's discomfort was augmented a thousandfold by this scene between the women. He shifted his weight from one foot to the other, crumpled the rim of his derby hat until it bent like the brim of an Alpine, and at length, unable to view the girl's distress with anything like equanimity, he walked to the other end of the reception-room and stood looking through the giant latticework at the tide of traffic in Centre Street.

It was not until the widow had restored Elinor's calmness, not until she had assured the trembling prisoner of her love, confidence, and full belief in her innocence a hundred times, not until their emotion had affected even the matron long inured to human woe, that the girl saw Sands. His sturdy bulk, the square set of his shoulders, the uncompromising fidelity in his strong face, gave her a new sense of pleasure. Surely her case could not be desperate with two such loyal friends to defend her! For the space of a star flash, she forgot even Fitch, although her lover at that moment was hastening uptown with Britz in quest of the missing thread that should lead to her vindication. Still with her arm around Mrs. Missioner's waist, she extended her hand to Sands, and thanked him in a way more effective than any mere girlish prettiness for the proof of his faith in her that he had given in coming with Mrs. Missioner to see her.

"Not that it would take much persuasion to make you accompany Doris anywhere," she said with a smile, and she was not at all remorseful when she noted the dark flush of pleasure that spread over his features. "But I cannot help taking comfort in the fact that you have come to see me, and that very evidently it has cost you no struggle to do so. If all of you could only know what these long weeks have been to me, you would understand how deeply the sight of old friends affects me. Here I have been in a world apart. The poor creatures who share this dreadful home with me only make my situation worse, for I can do nothing for them, and yet the sight of their misery distresses me beyond words."

MAJESTIC—CHICAGO.

For the week of Oct. 28 at the Majestic theatre, Chicago, will be presented under the auspices of David Belasco, the finest and most intense play ever staged in vaudeville. It comes with a record of over two years run in London, and is believed to be the most impressive dramatic composition of the kind the modern stage has known. This act is "The Drums of Oude" by Austin Strong, and when it is known that the play-let refers to that intense period of English history, the Sepoy rebellion it may be imagined what opportunity the playwright had for significant work. It was obvious that such a composition would inspire Mr. Belasco to his best efforts in stage setting and dramatic effect. In fact, he has gained new honors by the effective arrangement of the act, including scenic and lighting features, and most of all is the acting which is of extraordinary interest, those taking part being such artists as E. J. Ratcliff, Jack Standing, Harry Rose and Eleanor L'Estelle. The scene is the interior of a palace in India occupied by British troops in the spring of 1857 when the rebellion was at its height. Chung Hwa, Chinese Comedienne, one of the most novel and unusual features in the entire range of vaudeville, will be presented.

Another novelty will be Volant, which is the name for a sensational novelty piano illusion, which has created a furore on account of its originality and is thought to be one of the most astonishing illusions on the stage.

Lydia Barry will appear as the chief comedienne of the bill in a series of smart songs written exclusively for her. The Four Florimonders are foreign equilibrists and jugglers. Joe Morris and Charlie Allen, singing comedians, McCormick and Irving, comedy sketch artists, and Belle Onar complete the bill.

VOTE IN BALLOT BOX IS ONE THAT COUNTS

REPUBLICANS SHOULD BE CERTAIN TO GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY.

GIVE OLD-TIME MAJORITY

Taft Can Be Elected If Every One Who Wants to See Him Elected Will Go to the Polls and Vote for Him.

If everybody who really wants Taft elected goes to the polls and votes for him he will be elected.

There is no doubt as to the truth of this statement. The country wants Taft and a continuance of Republican policies under Republican administration. The only reason there has ever been any doubt of Taft's election has been a sort of "feeling" that there was no show for him. Within the past two weeks that feeling has been rapidly giving way to a conviction that he could win and a wave of Republican enthusiasm has been sweeping over the country.

This change in sentiment has been due chiefly to two causes: First, the collapse of the Third Term party campaign; and, second, the realization that in a business way the country has absolutely nothing to gain, while there would be grave danger that it would suffer a return to the hard times which characterized the last Democratic administration.

In the first blush of enthusiasm for the new party a great many Republicans believed there was a chance for Mr. Roosevelt to win. But as the campaign has progressed that hope has been shown to be absolutely futile. It is a matter of common knowledge that Roosevelt has gained practically no adherents from the Democratic party. This leaves him dependent upon the votes of the Republicans and in order to win it will be necessary for him to get eight out of every ten votes in the country, basing the estimate upon the returns of 1908. Of course, everybody knows he cannot do that.

The only possible result of his candidacy, therefore, may be to endanger the election of Mr. Taft. And now with the certainty that either Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson will be the next president every Republican is called upon to give his loyal support to the Republican ticket. In fact, everyone, regardless of party, who is satisfied with present business conditions and doubts the wisdom of a change should join to secure the re-election of President Taft and a Republican congress. This could not possibly result in detriment to the business of the country and it is equally certain that to return the Democratic party to power would bring about such disturbance. What is the sense in taking any chances?

Republicans everywhere should realize the absolute necessity of active work from now on until the polls close. Republicans in strong Republican precincts should especially appreciate the importance of making their vote as large as possible. The fact that they have a large majority in their own town or county should not be permitted to make them careless or indifferent about getting out their vote, for every vote counts in making up the state's total.

It should be remembered always that it is only the vote that goes into the ballot box that counts. Let every Republican bear in mind the fact that "if everybody who really wants Taft elected goes to the polls and votes for him he will be elected."

TAFT WOULD BE ELECTED

beyond any question if Theodore Roosevelt had not divided the Republican party when he failed to receive the presidential nomination.

The party was good enough for Roosevelt until Taft was nominated. Now he is trying to wreck it. His present position is a combination of selfish ambition and personal spite.

Why should you desert the party which has done so much for the country and thus given you a share in prosperity and progress?

Miss Hattie Mulkins has returned from a business trip to Chicago.

CLAIM VICTORY OVER BULGARIANS

Turkish Army at Adrianople Defeat Bulgars, Is Constantinople Report.

CONFIRM CAPTURE OF SCUTARI

Roumania Menaced by the Gigantic Struggle and May Yet Become Involved in War—Allies Plan Division of Turkey.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Turkish army at Adrianople has defeated the attacking Bulgar forces with heavy losses, according to a dispatch from Constantinople which the Turkish embassy gave out. The losses of the Bulgarians are estimated at more than 1,000.

The Turkish ambassador emphatically denied the reports issued by the Balkan allies that Adrianople is in imminent danger of capture. Latest advices from his government, he declared, indicate that the Bulgarians, after an attempt to assault the city, were driven back and have since left the Turkish army unmolested.

Victory Claimed by Both Sides.

London, Oct. 29.—The Turkish-Bulgarian fighting line extends from Adrianople nearly to the Black sea, with fierce fighting reported and both sides claiming the advantage. The same general engagement has been raging since last Wednesday, with fighting sometimes at one point and at other times at another, but it is really an engagement extending along a great front of more than 100 miles.

Adrianople, in desperate plight, is still holding out, with operations against it hampered by heavy rains. The situation for the inhabitants of the beleaguered city was rendered more critical by the capture in the vicinity of Eskibaba of a military train carrying troops and supplies from Constantinople to Adrianople. This move gives the Balkan allies control of the Oriental railroad and effectually shuts off Adrianople from any hope of relief, unless the Turks by some master stroke again regain possession of the line. The Turks, after the capture of the train, retreated in the direction of Constantinople.

Confirm Capture of Scutari.

Other victories of the Bulgarians during the day were the occupation of Bunarhisar, 22 miles from Kirk-Kilisesh, and Kresna, which is situated in the valley of the Struma. The capture of Scutari, which was reported from Vienna, is confirmed in a dispatch from Rome. Hundreds of buildings in Scutari were reported in flames at the last advices as a result of the Montenegrin cannonade.

The Servians are now in possession of virtually the whole of old Serbia and, in conjunction with the Montenegrins, hold the best part of the district of Novi Bazar. The Servian columns are also in control of the Turkish railroad from Mitrovitzan, its northern terminus, down to Uskub, and are close on the heels of the defeated Turkish army, which is retreating in the direction of Veles.

25,000 Killed and Wounded.

Although no official lists of the casualties have been published by any of the parties in the great conflict, advices from various sources tend to place the number of killed and wounded at more than 25,000.

The Turkish government has, it is understood, ordered that the commanders of the defeated forces be court-martialed.

The Turks insist that Kirk-Kilisesh has been retaken, but this is denied from many sources. The report also that the Turks had again taken Eskibaba is also denied.

In capturing the town of Mitrovitzan the Servians are reported to have taken a large number of guns and much ammunition. This is also denied from Constantinople.

Roumania May Be Involved.

Roumania, the only Balkan country not yet involved in the war, is menaced by the allies' struggle to crush Turkey and plans for a general mobilization of the Roumanian army are said to be under consideration. The Roumanian view, according to dispatches received here, is that between Bulgaria and Russia, which hem the country in on two sides, the country cannot avoid being swallowed up in the Balkan embroglio. Much alarm is current at Bucharest over the report that Russian cavalry is being concentrated on the northern frontier of Roumania.

Next to Bulgaria, Roumania is the strongest of the Balkan nations.

Allies Will Divide Turkey?

Paris has received advices that the Balkan allies have notified the powers that they will listen to no plans for peace with Turkey except on a basis of a division of the whole of European Turkey among themselves. All that the victorious allies are willing to leave the Turks on this side of the Bosphorus is the city of Constantinople and a small district surrounding it. The allies are already planning to extend Bulgaria south to the Aegean sea; to give Serbia an Adriatic seaport and to hand northern Albania over to Montenegro. The rest of Albania and Macedonia they propose to transform into two independent principalities, united with the other Balkan states by a close alliance.

TEMPERANCE ITEMS.

The number of total abstainers among men is increasing steadily. The following are some of the most potent reasons:

The teaching in our public schools of the effect of alcohol upon the system. Alcohol affects the brain. The lunacy commission of New York having charge of 13 hospitals with 30,000 insane, say: Alcohol is a determining factor in 40 per cent of the cases. Add to this the army of idiots and epileptics that are the direct fruits of alcoholism and you have an army of human wreckage that staggers belief. The effect of alcohol on heredity is equally striking, the per cent of children born of alcoholic parents that are mental, physical and moral degenerates is simply appalling. Investigations are carried on by the New York Academy of Medicine, as to the efficiency of the school children revealed the fact that 53 per cent of the children of drinking parents and only 10 per cent of the children of abstaining parents were dullards, as a moderate use of alcohol weakens the will power and excessive use destroys it, the children of drinking parents enter upon life's struggles predisposed to spiritual degeneracy. They are robbed of a fair chance for two worlds.

MADAME SHERRY TONIGHT.

One of the biggest advance sales in the history of the Dixon opera house is now on, and it is conceded that "Madame Sherry" will draw the largest house the opera house has ever had tonight.

Its theme song, entitled "Every Little Movement Has a Meaning All Its Own" has been the rage in town for months. Some of the other musical gems are: You Can't Argue, Can You? The Kiss You Gave; Uncle's I Mustn't and I Won't; The Birth of the Butterfly; The Smile Means for You; The Love Dance; Lots and Pans; I'm All Right; I Want to Play House With You; On a Fall; We Are Only Poor Weak Mortals After All, etc.

Some of the terpsichorean novelties are The Birth of Passion; Athletic Prancing; The Seduction, and the famous Danger Dance.

THE GIRL AT THE GATE — LA-SALLE OPERA HOUSE, CHICAGO.

Manager Askin has placed seats for "The Girl at the Gate" on sale for Thanksgiving week and for the Christmas and New Year holidays. It continues the policy of popular theatres with reserved seats ranging from 25c to $1. Tuesday and Thursday of last season were heavily patronized by out of town people. The Saturday matinees are a Mecca for fun-loving children attracted by such brilliant singing and dancing novelties as the Raggedy Doll, the Song of the Girl at the Gate, Dreamy Bay and the uproariously funny chair scene, in which comedians, Corthell and Phillips are distinguished as two guides to the San Francisco fair. The LaSalle has already received orders by the score for reservations for the Stock Show, the week of Monday, Oct. 2. This always has been the banner week at the LaSalle opera house for the thousands of visitors to the LaSalle opera house for their theatrical entertainment. Reservations for Stock Show week in the LaSalle may be addressed directly to Mr. Harry Askin, LaSalle Opera House and will be attended to in the order in which they are received.

"THE MAN HIGHER UP"

amped with Success.—Only Two Weeks More Remain in Which to View this Latest Triumph at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago. Nothing succeeds like success. "The Man Higher Up," which is to remain at the Olympic theatre only until Nov. 9 is one of the big successes of the Chicago theatrical season. The play will close at the end of 8 weeks' run. It could stay that many months but New York and Broadway having heard about its riotous popularity, want it, and it goes to the stor theatre direct from the Olympic.

It has the approval of statesmen, members of the clergy and now society and wealth have joined the rest of Chicago in the never ending clamor for seats. Last Saturday night more than $100,000,000 in industrial holdings and securities was represented by box coupons. Levy Mayer, the lawyer whose fame is national; Mrs. W. C. Brown, wife of the president of the New York Central lines, and Maurice L. Rothschild, the retail clothing magnate, were interested spectators of this rigorous comedy drama with a moral.

The following well known players continue in the cast: Edward Ellis, Geo. Parker, Francis Byrne, Eugene O'Rourke, Geo. W. Wilson, Janet Beecher, Kate Hopson, Ada Gifford and Grace Henderson.

"MILESTONES"

The Season's Conspicuous Dramatic Hit in Chicago.

"Milestones," the delightful play of three generations, by Arnold Bennett and Edward Knoblauch, is packed at the Blackstone theatre in Chicago to the doors at every performance. As anticipated it has proved the season's most conspicuous and talked about dramatic success. The work of the brilliant English novelist and essayist, Arnold Bennett and his collaborator, Edw. Knoblauch, the American playwright who has given Kismet to the stage, realizes the highest ideals of dramatic art. It is a play of sentiment that will appeal to all people and all ages. It holds the audience in a constant state of expectancy as the story develops in accordance with the finest traditions of the stage. Although it deals with three generations of English folks from 1860 to the present time, it is in reality a play of the 20th hour. One writer has said Milestones is like some rare and ingenious fabric woven by master hand at the loom of life. Three generations cross in warp and woof and yet no skein is tangled and no connecting thread of interest is snapped.

The purpose of the play is to show the tendency of the new generation to rebel when it reaches the marrying age. It shows how elderly persons forget that they themselves were once young and perhaps headstrong and grow reproving when they see themselves over again in their own children. The scene is laid in London and from first to last in one room. The first act is in 1860, the second in 1885 and the third in 1912. John Rhead who left the established firm of Sibley, Rhead and Sibley in 1860 because its bureaucratic guardians would not believe with him that ships were to be constructed of iron and who married a Sibley girl against her family's wish in 1885, denies his own daughter the right to marry the man of her choice because her sweetheart believes in the future of steel and it accounts an impressionable vision. This daughter who has not the strength of character to carry her rebellion to the length her mother did before her, marries a dull witted member of the peerage to please her parents and in 1912, in turn, refuses her own daughter the choice of a struggling youth of good prospects but lacking the title and established position. Times have changed however and the girl marries the man of her choice. This merely outlines the story. Reference can only be made to the appealing character of Gertrude Rhead, who is seen throughout the play and who for principle returns her engagement ring to her fiancée in the first act and leads hereafter the self sacrificing and lonely life of a spinster. And, too, mention can be made of the dominating of John Rhead and of the amiable Rose Sibley who also, are seen in the three acts. In a word, Milestones is a play whose pathos at times touches the heart and whose humor is fine, indeed. The company of English players, brought over especially for the Blackstone theatre engagement, is of exceptional merit.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

The bill at the Princess is especially good now. The pictures to night will be The Bandit of Point Loma, a stirring western drama and will please all. The Inheritance, a comedy, will also make you glad you came and The Letters of a Lifetime, a drama, will put the finishing touch on a complete and entertaining bill, calculated to please all ages.

STOMACH STARVERS EAT ANYTHING NOW

NO INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA OR SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH FOR "PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" USERS.

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diaepsin and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterward.

If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diaepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness of heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diaepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

FEAR OROZCO REVOLT

Mexican Rebels Still Doing Acts of Depredation.

U. S. Cruisers to Remain on Southern Republic's Coast—Madero May Be Impeached.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Reports of renewed rebel disturbances in Chihuahua caused state department officials here to fear that the extended Orozco revolt in this section may be preparing to break out again, with even greater violence than before. According to consular and diplomatic advice the insurgents are raiding ranches and stealing cattle with impunity, there being no federal force large enough to stop them.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Beekman Winthrop announced that the Des Moines, Tacoma, Denver and Cleveland will remain on the east and west coasts of Mexico until every vestige of revolution has died down. If conditions warrant, he added, other ships may be added.

Mexico City, Oct. 29.—Popular protest against the execution of Gen. Felix Diaz is so strong that there is talk of impeaching President Madero. Sharp discord has arisen between the president and the senate, and as individuals the senators have seriously discussed the question of impeachment because of the administration's defiance of the senate's interpellation on Friday.

Deal Is Proposed to Settle the Litigation Over Two Big Companies.

New York, Oct. 29.—The taking of John D. Archbold's testimony in the Standard Oil-Waters Pierce litigation was postponed until Thursday, pending the determination of negotiations to settle the suit out of court. Although counsel for neither side would discuss the case, it became known that Mr. Archbold, John D. Rockefeller and other Standard Oil interests had offered to sell their holdings in the Waters-Pierce company to H. Clay Pierce, thus settling the fight for control. The deal would involve $3,000,000, it was said.

COLONEL GREET'S NEWSPAPER MEN

Roosevelt Doubtful Over Outcome of Madison Square Garden Address.

SLASHING CAMPAIGN TABOOED

Tells Correspondents His Wound Is Still Painful and for That Reason Will Avoid Personal Contact With Crowds.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Oct. 29.—In the library at Sagamore Hill Colonel Roosevelt gave his first interview to newspaper men since his return from Chicago to recuperate from his bullet wound. Politics was eschewed.

During the talk the colonel clearly indicated that he is somewhat doubtful as to the outcome of his contemplated effort tomorrow night at Madison Square garden. He keenly realizes that he has not picked up strength enough to launch upon a slashing campaign. In the event that he does not suffer a relapse from the effort Roosevelt has in mind speaking at Huntington and Mineola, probably next Saturday night. Furthermore he is bent upon winding up the campaign with a speech next Monday night in the opera house at Oyster Bay.

Colonel Greet's Newspaper Men.

The colonel strode into his library just after dusk clad in his khaki riding habit. He walked with his old time brisk step, calling out a cheery "hello!" as he saw the newspaper correspondents waiting him. His right arm hung limp at his side except for a twitching of the fingers. Putting out his left hand the ex-president gave each newspaper man a warm clasp.

"This is like living again," he exclaimed blithely. "By George, it's bully."

The ex-president sat down in the swivel arm chair at his desk, resting himself with both arms as though nothing at all was the matter with him. A kerosene reading lamp on the desk—they don't have electric lights at Sagamore Hill—shone upon his countenance, showing it to be ruddy. All the gray paleness he had when he came back from the hospital was gone.

Wound Still Very Painful.

The newspaper correspondents asked about the wound—if it still caused any pain.

"Well, there's soreness about the muscles of the outer cavity," replied the colonel, removing his arm, and wincing as he did it.

"When I try breathing deep I feel it. Of course I'm not going to try to climb hills."

"The pain is like rheumatism?" suggested one.

"Worse," assented the colonel.

Roosevelt went on to explain that one reason why he is in doubt as to making other speeches than that at Madison Square garden is that he fears the jostling of crowds with the consequent pressure upon the wound.

Would Avoid Handshaking.

"You know, too, there are some perfectly well meaning people who will think, when they see me, that it is the psychological moment to shake my hand and thump me on the back," laughed the colonel. "If that happened I'd have to resist the impulse to become an anarchist."

"You don't look like a man who had been shot," was ventured.

"No!" chorled the ex-president. "Really I don't feel that way either."

Asked how he managed the right arm when walking around Sagamore Hill the colonel explained:

"Oh, I stick the hand in my pocket, this way"—thrusting it deep into the khaki pocket—"it doesn't bother if I rest it."

Will Do as Doctors Say.

Roosevelt gravely declared that he would do as the doctors insist and speak but half an hour at Madison Square garden.

"I've already dictated the speech and it won't go longer than that," was the colonel's assurance.

The ex-president spoke of going to New York in a special car attached to a regular train, this having been determined upon by the physicians so as to avoid the jostling of an automobile ride. After the speech he expects to return at once to the train, getting back to Oyster Bay before midnight.

RING NOT GRANT RELIC

General's Daughter Lost Valuable Wedding Present, Says Husband.

New York, Oct. 29.—It was most emphatically denied in Chicago by Frank H. Jones, husband of Mrs. Nellie Grant, daughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, that his wife had lost a $25,000 emerald ring, a gift of the Japanese mikado to her father. Mrs. Jones did, however, lose a ring valued at $5,000 in this city about six months ago; but it was a wedding present, and there was no historical value attached to it.

Strong Vigorous Feet Never Sore

Just Rub on EZO for the Feet and away goes Foot Misery

Just Rub EZO for the Feet and Away Goes Foot Misery

Just think of it; only 25 cents for a generous jar of EZO, pleasant, refined ointment that quickly soaks into the pores and in a few minutes brings blessed relief to tired, weary, sore, burning, tender feet. All drug stores have it.

It's so easy to use too—no fuss or bother getting ready—no time wasted—just rub on EZO for the feet and misery vanishes. Used daily it makes weak feet strong and vigorous and draws the agony from Corns, Bunions, and Calluses. It fine for rough skin, chapped hands and face, chilblains and frosted feet. Rowland Bros. guarantee it. Ask for EZO FOR THE FEET.

PRaise SERVICE INSPIRING.

The praise service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening was one of the most successful ever held there, the music and sermon being especially inspiring. It was necessary to put chairs in the aisles to accommodate the large audience drawn by the special features. The quartet's selections were worthy of special note and E. B. Kennedy of Sterling and Dudley Friedline pleased greatly with their solos, as did Mrs. Stephan and Prof. Stoddard's duet. It is the intention of Dr. Crissman, the pastor, to hold praise services monthly during the winter.

W. W. Wasson of Pontiac is visiting this week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. J. Ferguson.

Mrs. C. B. Morrison returned Saturday from Chicago.

PUT UP YOUR SIGN

FOR 10,000 EYES

You have a sign hanging in your window, haven't you?—a For Sale, For Rent, Boarders Wanted, or a sign of that nature.

Suppose 1,000 or 2,000 men, women and children who pass your place see your sign, that is the full extent of the publicity you get.

But a SIGN hung in the classified column catches the eyes of many thousands—possibly 10,000 or more before the paper is destroyed. It is seen for miles about—north, east, south and west.

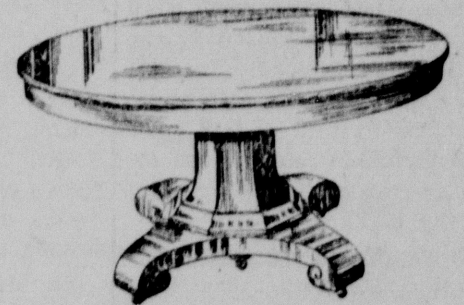

And you can reach this audience for a trifle. Not over 25 words, 3 issues for 25 cents.

E. J. Ferguson is in Chicago today.

Howard Stackpole will return this week from California.

Andrew Chaon transacted business in our village Thursday afternoon.

I have two Duroc Jersey male pigs for sale. Weight about 150 pounds. Price reasonable. W. A. Mireley, West Brooklyn, Ill.

Editor George Shaw of the Dixon Telegraph was a visitor in West Brooklyn accompanying the republican party campaigning for the reelection of Attorney General Wm. H. Stead.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Gehant and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gehant were visitors in West Brooklyn Thursday.

Henry Chaon and family were over from Compton Thursday evening to attend the fair.

Jacob Henkel, Sr., was here from South Brooklyn Thursday.

Amel Henry visited in Amboy on Thursday night with relatives and friends.

Remember that delicious supper at 5 o'clock Thursday evening Oct. 31st, on the closing day of the bazaar. It will be worth going miles to enjoy it.

Remember West West Brooklyn's big insurance agency when in need of insurance. They handle fire, lightning, tornado, old line life, live stock and represent only the first class companies. Henry F. and Oliver L. Gehant.

Joe Bieschke was in town from Viola on business matters Thursday.

Miss Lizzie Blackburn of Harmon visited at the week end with her two sisters and other relatives and friends in West Brooklyn.

St. Mary's church bazaar opened very enthusiastically Thursday evening, Oct. 24th, with a supper at 5 o'clock for the business men, served by the ladies of the church in the opera house dining rooms. The night was ideal for traveling and distance did not prevent any from attending the bazaar. The crowd was a jolly one and when the treasurer checked up for the night he found the receipts running up close to the $200 mark, which is encouraging for the opening night. The various booths about the spacious hall were well managed and presented a handsome appearance, for they had been handsomely decorated the day before. The cheerful face of Father Krug was in evidence throughout the evening, and he was assisting the attendants in their praiseworthy cause and as a result the orphans' fund received a substantial gift right off the reel. St. Mary's new pastor is a very entertaining person; during his brief stay in West Brooklyn has made scores of friends and is bound to make a friend of each one he meets. He predicts a great success for the bazaar, by taking his basis from the first night's results and is more than pleased with the way his congregation has responded to his call for aid to the orphans' home, and with the excellent judgment the various committee are displaying in handling the bazaar.

Major A. T. Tourtellot of Dixon, visited in West Brooklyn Thursday.

Miss Emma McCormick of Harmon visited Saturday with her sister, Anna, in our city.

Clarence Durr and Thomas Garland of Harmon spent Saturday in West Brooklyn.

Joseph Auchstetter was in town on business Saturday morning.

Henry F. Gehant and Peter Barnickel were over to Sublette on business matters Saturday morning.

Jos. J. Wisner of Ashton visited Friday afternoon in West Brooklyn with relatives and friends.

The regular night for closing the bazaar was Thursday, Oct. 31st, but since that night happens to fall on Halloween the committee have about decided to advance the close to Wednesday night, and if this occurs the business men's supper will be served the 30th at 7 o'clock, instead of on the 31st.

HARMON

The farmers have nearly all commenced to husk corn. Some of it is dry enough to hell. That is the corn that was of the early planting. The yield will be large this year. The prices will not be as good as last year. Some of the farmers are contracting for forty cents for December delivery. There is also some soft corn which was of late planting and will be fit for hog feed.

Some of the farmers are now doing their shredding, and putting the fodder into their barns to feed. A number have clover seed too. They are keeping the hullers busy getting the seed out as it is a good price, and they are anxious to have all they can of it.

All of the farmers have secured their seed corn this year. Some say that they gathered more than they would need to plant.

James Scanlan was a caller in Harmon last Thursday.

The Harmon town board has not secured the men they wanted to work on the water works system. It seems men are hard to get to do the work at a good price.

George Farley of Marion was a caller in Harmon last Thursday.

James Layden continues quite poorly. He seems to get worse all of the time. No improvement of his condition.

The rendering man was here from Dixon after the carcass of a dead animal.

James Conklin was a Harmon caller last Thursday. He was here on business. The men who are putting in concrete for the foundation of the water works tower have finished one of the places and commenced work on the second. There are five of these concrete bases to make for the supports of the tower and tank, to rest on. They are made sure, so that they will stand the pressure of the weight above them.

John and Avery Sutton drew oats to market last Thursday.

Coughs and colds are quite numerous here at present. Some cases of influenza with chilliness and aching in the muscles.

Peter Huey has been putting a new awning in front of his restaurant. He has also made other improvements. He had contemplated painting his building this fall, but now thinks that it is getting too late and will put it off till spring.

Scanlan and Olander will ship a carload of hogs to Chicago. They also have some cattle to ship.

William Edson took some friends from the train last Thursday morning to his home in Hamilton.

Thos. Ryan Jr., is here from Fort Wayne, Ind., where he has been at work.

Miss Eleanor Smith was a Harmon caller last Saturday.

Jacob Rhodenbaugh and his men are at work on the James Manges house in Hamilton.

A bridge was broken down in Hamilton by a heavy traction engine passing over it.

Frank Hettiger, wife and daughter and Edward Long went to Sterling Saturday in his auto.

There was an extra train in Harmon last Saturday taking out some cars.

Thomas Durr has a new automobile and was driving it around town and hauling the ladies out in it. It is a fine one and will carry five passengers.

The walls of the Catholic church are finished and the carpenters have the rafters all cut and ready to put into place as soon as one of the end walls is finished.

I have read of Mary having a little lamb, but in Harmon Mary has a little doggie.

James Frank and wife were here Saturday.

August Jensen has some very fine corn on the Brill farm. It will make from 50 to 60 bushels per acre. He has commenced husking and cribbing it.

SOME WORKING GIRLS LOSE TOO MUCH TIME

Two Girls Tell How To Avoid It.

There is nothing that teaches more an experience. We therefore quote from the letters of two girls who suffered and were restored to health. The same remedy is within reach of all.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"Prior to taking the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered agony every month, but after your wonderful medicine had been taken a while I felt a little better, and after taking seven bottles of it I feel that I can truly say I have no more pain or inconvenience.

"As I am out in the business world as a stenographer, I come in contact with many girls, and when the opportune moment arrives I tell them about the Vegetable Compound and I know that quite a few are taking it."—HELEN CANET, 556 Dean St.

Another Girl's Experience.
Tishomingo, Okla.—"I am a stenographer and book-keeper, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved my life. I am enjoying the best of health now, but I was suffering from female troubles and painful periods, and would have backache, headache and fainting spells. If any woman would like to write to me I will gladly answer her letter and tell her what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. MATTIE COPENHAVER, Tishomingo, Okla.

I will gladly answer her letter and tell her what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. MATTIE COPENHAVER, Tishomingo, Okla.

U. S. SANCTIONS TIPPING

Also Recognizes High Cost of Living in Chicago and New York.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The high cost of living in New York and Chicago has been recognized officially by the treasury department, and hereafter its transient employees in those cities will be allowed six dollars per day for expenses instead of five dollars. Another feature of the new travel regulations recently issued by the department is that its employees will be allowed 50 cents a day for tips. This is the first time the government has ever officially sanctioned the tip.

KILLS FAMILY OF WIFE

Young Wisconsin Farmer Then Takes His Own Life.

Sheboygan, Wis., Oct. 29.—Alvin Roehr, a young farmer of Plymouth, shot and killed his father-in-law, Philip J. Ott, Mrs. Ott and Mrs. Ott's father, Fred Haut, eighty years of age, when he was refused permission to see his wife, from whom he had been separated. Roehr's body was found later hanging to a tree in the woods about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the tragedy. Mrs. Roehr and her baby escaped by hiding for three hours.

BECKER IS HOPELESS

NO LONGER EXPECTS TO GET A NEW TRIAL.

Former New York Police Official Regrets That He Did Not Testify in His Case.

New York, Oct. 29.—Former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker gave out another statement from his cell, lamenting the fact that he failed to take the stand at his trial and adding that he had little hope of securing a reversal of the verdict which condemns him to the electric chair for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

He repeated his statement that he had no connection with the murder and charged that the informers, Rose, Vallon and Webber, not only engineered the crime, but had planned to murder another gambler. The plot had miscarried, he added.

"I am no longer optimistic that my lawyer will get me a new trial," said Becker. "I might say that I am hopeless of a successful appeal."

"It is a case of railroaded me to the chair," declared Becker.

"The judges of the court of appeals are only human. I do not know that I will get another trial."

Mrs. Becker, who was with him, burst into tears. She plans to be a daily visitor at the Tombs, pending the appeal.

BABY BECOMES HUMAN TORCH

Little One, Left Alone With Defective Boy, Fatally Burned Before Family Can Rescue.

Mandan, N. D., Oct. 29.—A boy of fourteen years, mentally deficient, is blamed for the death of the two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Brudel of Leipzig, by setting fire to the little one's clothing. The baby and the boy were left in the residence together while the members of the family went to the fields. The boy is said to have touched a match to the baby's clothing, and the screams of the child brought the family, but too late to save the victim.

FARMER HELD FOR MURDER

James Cochran Charged With Killing Two Women in Quarrel Over Their Children.

Wellston, O., Oct. 29.—James Cochran, a farmer, is held in jail without bail here charged with having shot and killed Mrs. Colby and Mrs. Betts, neighbors, during a disagreement after a quarrel between their respective children. This is the second shooting with which Cochran has been charged. He was tried and acquitted a year ago of having shot and killed Armon Kaufman, a neighbor.

TALKED TO M'MANIGAL

Ryan Conferred With Dynamiter, Says Witness.

Stenographer Swears That Union
Chief Passed on the Expenditures for "Organizing Purposes."

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—That Frank
M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers held a conference behind closed doors with Or-tie E. Manigal, the dynamiter, at the headquarters of the union in this city August 25, 1910, was a part of the testimony of R. J. Cook, former bookkeeper and stenographer at the union offices, who was on the witness stand in the dynamite case in federal court here.

Cook also told of how, after the Times explosion, as he remembered the date, John J. McNamara, disguised, had made a trip to Ballagh-
Neb., carrying with him a suitcase full of letters and papers he had taken from his personal files in his desk and had brought with him from his room. The testimony of this witness also dealt with the trip, he said, H.
W. Leggett made to headquarters, bringing with him the brood carrying case. This is the same case, it is charged, that was usually used in carrying a ten-quart can of nitro-glycerin.

Frank M. Ryan, as well as McNamara, passed on the expenditures of the union funds for "organizing purposes," said the witness. It was from these funds, the government charges, that the dynamite conspiracy expenses were paid.

Cook identified McManigal as the man he had seen at headquarters although at that time he (Cook) said McManigal was in Ryan's office an hour.

The defense has not denied that Ryan knew McManigal, but it asserted that Ryan knew McManigal only through meeting him a few times at Chicago, the home of both, and that Ryan knew nothing about the business in which the confessed dynamite-er was engaged in.
